Girl Runs Away from Home to Join Her Austrian Lover

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Frederick Henkel, whose sister, Marie, fled from her home here yesterday with borrowed money to go to the bedside of her wounded lover in Austria, caught a fast train in pursuit today. "Are you going to bring her back?" he was asked. "No; I'm going to help her," he replied. Miss Henkel, aged 22 years, met Count Feodor Hines von Zagred while touring Europe with her mother last summer. A few days ago she received a letter, full of endearments and mentioning that the writer had been seriously wounded in a brush with a regiment of Cossacks. "Send me something to remind me of you," the young count, who is an Austrian officer, concluded his letter. Miss Henkel determined to appear in person as a reply, but her parents would not supply the funds. Yesterday she pawned some trinkets her girl friends had contributed and obtained money enough for passage to New York, a steamer ticket to Genoa, $25 for passage from Genoa to Trieste and $5 for meals and incidentals. Her friends, knowing that she would not so far on a dining car, provided her with a supply of sandwiches, pickles, minced ham and other edibles. She boarded a train for New York last night. Brother Frederick carries with him plenty of money, so that his sister will be able to travel first class.

SOLDIERS SLEEP IN HOLES IN TRENCHES

Life in Bulletproof Shelters Described by Attache at British Headquarters.

SINGLE BOMB WRECKS CONVOY

Grenade Dropped by Aviator on Ammunition Wagon Causes Death of Fifteen Germans and Destroys Motor Vehicles. LONDON, Oct. 16.—There has been given out in London a descriptive account of some recent developments in France, sent by an eye-witness attached to the British general headquarters. The account is in part as follows: On the firing line the men sleep in dugouts they have hollowed or cut under the sides of the trenches. These dugouts are raised slightly above the bottom of the trench so as to remain dry in wet weather. The floor of the trench also is sloped for purposes of drainage; some of the trenches are provided with overhead cover, which gives protection from the weather as well as from shrapnel balls and splinters of shells. Considerable industry has been exercised by the men in naming these shelters. Among the favorite designations are "Hotel Cecil," "the 'Ritz Hotel,'" "the 'Billet Doux hotel'" and the "Rue Dormir."

Huskrs Leave to Play Aggies; Have Big Task

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—The Cornhusker foot ball squad, twenty-one strong, accompanied by Coach Stehm and Athletic Manager Reed, left this evening for Manhattan for the Huskers' first game away from home and against a Missouri valley conference foe. Stehm took five additional players over the customary squad.

Following are the men taken on the trip: Captain Halligan, Amack, Abhart, Ellis, Cameron, Covert, Chamberlain, Caley, Doble, Delematre, Gross, Fouts, Howard, Hawkins, Habersleben, Norris, Potter, Porter, Rutherford, Wilson and Shields. The Cornhusker squad was only in fair condition, some of the players still suffering from injuries received in last Saturday's game. The Huskers, however, are hopeful of making a better showing than in the first two games of the season.

The Kansas Aggies have a veteran aggregation and Stehm will have to uncover all of his plays in order to win. It is believed here.

CONGRESSMEN ON WAY HOME

Demos Suspend Docking Rule and Members Leave in Flocks.

SLOAN AND STEPHENS ON HAND

Kinkaid Will Leave for West Next Week and Barton, Lobeck and Maguire Will Wait Till Later.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—When Leader Underwood announced to the house last evening that with the passage of the Philippine bill and the Alaska coal land leasing bill the program mapped out for the lower body of congress had been completed there was a burst of applause from the democrats, followed with additional acclaim when he moved to rescind the "docking" resolution passed some weeks ago. Mr. Underwood said he was moved to make this motion because he recognized how important it was for members to go home for the purpose of making part in their campaign. He made the motion, he said, with the assurance that if they were needed a quorum would be forthcoming in order to act finally on the war revenue measure, which is expected to reach the house not later than Thursday of next week.

Members Leave Hastily

At the time the announcement was made there was a scant quorum in the house. Within 100 hours there were not 20 members left in the capital and tonight there is hardly a third of the membership in Washington, every train since midnight last night being crowded to the guards with home-going congressmen and their families.

Sloan and Stephens Leave.

Representatives Sloan and Stephens left for their homes tonight, both to get into their campaigns at once. Mr. Sloan will visit all the counties in his district, making his campaign by automobile, while Mr. Stephens will use a similar conveyance in order to see as many voters as possible before election.

Kinkaid Comes Soon.

Judge Kinkaid will remain in Washington until next week, when he will go to the Sixth district and meet the home folks. The Judge is anxious to have the alien widows' bill signed by the president and has been informed by the Interior department that Secretary Lane will give his sanction to the measure tomorrow or Monday, when the president will affix his signature.

Some Will Lounge.

Mr. Burton and Mr. Maguire will remain in Washington until after adjournment, which now looks as if it might be brought about some time next week. Mr. Lobeck expects to leave for Omaha either Monday or Tuesday.

Headed at Superior.

SUPERIOR, Neb., Oct. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Governor Morehead was given a greeting here today by a large crowd. The Superior team, with county candidates, met him at Eastwick and came in a body to Superior and this afternoon went to Harcy, where the Farmers union picnic was held.

GERMANS REACH BELGIAN PORT ON ENGLISH CHANNEL

Antwerp. In other words, they concede it would be a moral and spectacular victory for the Germans, but of no great strategic significance. Whether this be so, future events only can show, but the British contention is that with the sea binding the German right it loses a weapon heretofore effectively used. It is pointed out that the chief successes the Germans have attained have been derived from the tactics of envelopment. The channel barrier now presents this and a decisive blow from the Germans, it is argued, can be delivered only after the allied front has been penetrated.

German No Longer Have Flashes.

The arrival of the Germans near Ostend, however, straightens out their line in Belgium so that it now runs almost due south connecting with their forces in France. Being jam up to the coast at the north leaves the Germans without a flank anywhere. With no flank to turn it will be necessary for the allies to break line somewhere, and the fiercest fighting to effect this is likely to continue along the Belgian frontier.

All England is buzzing with talk of the spy menace, the papers editorially and otherwise dwelling on the presence of Germans at the hotels, and urging closer restriction. What is said to be a spy dressed in a Belgian uniform has been arrested among the refugees arriving from Belgium.

A royal proclamation just issued forbids the transit, except by post, which is subject to the censor's scrutiny, of any letter or written message to any person of any nationality carrying on business in the enemy's country. It is further ruled that any person landing or embarking in the United Kingdom must declare whether he is carrying any letter or message. Officers are empowered to search the luggage of a suspect and seize any letter if they are doubtful as to its character and submit the same to the military censor.

Khedive of Egypt Required to Stay in Constantinople

LONDON, Oct. 16.—That the khedive of Egypt, who is now in Constantinople, has been forbidden by the British government to return to his dominions for the present is a belief current among Englishmen, who keep in touch with Egyptian affairs. The khedive was in Constantinople, visiting the sultan when the war began, and was fired on and slightly wounded by an Egyptian political agitator. The loyalty of the khedive to British rule is strongly questioned by Anglo-Egyptians. His closest associates are members of the pro-Turkish party, which is under German influence.

With Lord Kitchener absent from Egypt and most of the regular British garrison withdrawn for service in France, the opportunity for revolutionary outbreaks is an unusual one. Under these circumstances, it is possible that Great Britain may use pressure to induce the khedive to prolong his visit in Constantinople until the close of the war or until events take a turn which would insure British success and discourage native plottings in Egypt.

There are 15,000 British territorials in the garrisons of Egypt now who have replaced the regular troops sent to France. Other territorial regiments have been sent to India in exchange for regulars brought to Europe.

Mexicans Threaten American Outposts

VERA CRUZ, Oct. 16.—Evident preparations on the part of a small detachment of men the General Aguilar for an attack last night on the American outposts around Vera Cruz have resulted in the strengthening of the American lines.

Some 200 Mexicans are in a position about half a mile from the American outposts and they have two mounted guns trained on the American soldiers. Their warlike activity is attributed in Vera Cruz to over-indulgence in liquor obtained at a house just beyond the American lines, but their boasts that they were about to inaugurate an attack that ultimately would drive the Americans out of this port are taken more or less seriously on account of the persistency of the reports that Aguilar will not be able to restrain himself much longer, and that the impatience of his men to enter Vera Cruz is rendering his control over them doubtful. Aguilar's force is estimated at between 4,000 and 6,000 men, with several pieces of artillery.

Lights in London Ordered Subdued

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The people of London refuse to be frightened by the menace of a Zeppelin raid. The police are having great trouble to compel them to conform to the regulations for minimizing the lighting of buildings and streets. A third order was issued as follows: "All external private lighting not needed to secure the safety of traffic should be discontinued."

"Some business and other establishments are still maintaining interior lighting of too great intensity which illuminates the roadway."

"The commissioner of police is advised that such lighting represents under certain circumstances a source of danger to the particular neighborhood and the com-

Burke Back for Campaign.

PIERRE, S. D., Oct. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Congressman Burke arrived home from Washington this morning to begin his campaign for the United States senate.

Some men are awful anxious to fight as long as somebody's holdin' 'em. But turnin' 'em loose takes all the fight out of 'em as completely as agein' takes the bite out of VELVET.

What is "bite" in tobacco? It's a harshness that comes usually of insufficient curing and ageing. Good tobacco ought to have strength in it—and ageing turns that strength into mellow smoothness. That's the simple truth about VELVET, Kentucky's Burley de Luxe, which has two years' ageing. 10c tins and 5c metal-lined bags.

Aviator Blows Up Artillery Train.

It already has been mentioned that according to information obtained from the enemy fifteen Germans were killed by a bomb dropped on the ammunition wagon of a cavalry column. It was thought at the time that this might have been the work of one of our airmen, who reported that he had dropped a hand grenade on this convoy and had then got a bird's-eye view of the finest display of fireworks he had ever seen.

From evidence it now appears that this was the case; that the grenade thrown by him probably was the cause of the destruction of a small convoy carrying field gun and howitzer ammunition which now has been found a total wreck. Along the road its fourteen motor lorries, their iron skeletons twisted and broken. Everything inflammable has been burned, and the stripped trees—some with split trunks—on either side of the road. Of the drivers nothing remains except tattered boots and charred scraps of clothing, while the ground within a radius of fifty yards of the wagons is littered with pieces of iron and split brass cartridge cases.
